EVERY CORSET WARRANTED SATISFACTORY. Purchasing these goods in large quantities from the Manufacturers, we receive a special discount, which enables us to reduce them from the former price ($1 25), to 98 cents, which will be the standard price that we shall now sell them for.

The leading feature of the "DR. SCHILLING" CORSET, by its superiority over other CORSETS, becomes at once apparent, is its COILED WIRE ELASTIC SECTIONS, which enables it not only to conform with perfect case to every position assumed by the wearer, but to expand and contract with every respiration as well. This characteristic, supplying as it does a long-felt went (owing to the predict of the production) and the second of the contract of the with every respiration as well. This characteristic, supplying as it does a long-felt want (owing to the many indispositions and ailings of female life), is the secret of the great popularity and rapidly increasing sale of this CORSET. These sections (unlike rubber and other material), will not heat the person or decay with age. It is the only CORSET pronounced by the medical profession "not injurious to the wearer." (See label on box.)

23- To secure the best results with this CORSET, it should not be laced tighter than necessary to produce a snug fit, and should not be opened to exceed one and one-half inches in the back.

THE GRAPE CURE, SAL-MUSCATELLE,

MISCELLANEOUS.

A NATURAL Sick Headache and Dyspepsia Cure IN AMERICA.

IN AMERICA,

The crystallized salts, as extracted from grapes and fruit, a most wonderful product from Nature's laboratory. Have it in your homes and travels—a specific for the fagged, weary or worn out. It cures sick headache, dyspepsia, stomach and bowel complaints; removes biliousness, stimulates the liver to a healthy action, counteracts the effects of impure water and the excessive use of alcoholic beverages, and prevents the absorption of maiaria. Supplies to the system the want of sound ripe fruit.

The Knights of Labor.

CLEVELAND, May 26th.-When the call for the Convention was issued by Mr. Pow-derly, he only enumerated five causes of complaint that were to be adjusted. These were boycotts, strikes, the Southwest troubles, the relation of the Knights of Labor to other organizations, and the instituting of new Assemblies. Since the acted on at the next executive session of elegates have arrived, many of them have plans that they would like to bring before the general session, and whether these will discussed or laid on the table cannot be termined as yet. One of these plans is

[St. Louis Globe-Democrat.]
The Cullom interstate commerce bill, which has just passed the Senate and gone to the House, illustrates the incapacity of the average legislator in dealing with ques-tions which have no "politics" in them. The bill has a section in it which prevents railroads charging more for freight per ton per mile for carrying it a short distance than a long distance. If anything in rail-way management in its larger phases has Challenged to Fight a Duel.

New York, May 26th.—Captain S. M. Sanders has got himself into a heap of trouble since he drank to the health of Jeff Davis at the banquet given by Chatham Artillery at Savannah. Now he has a duel on his hands, for William E. A. Bird, of 4 Maiden lane, who served in the war and rose to the rauk of Major in the Fifth Cavalry, last night sent him a challenge to mortal combat with Winchester rifles.

Way management in its larger phases has been demonstrated in the last ten years, it could be enforced, would either mean the bankruptcy of the railroads affected or the serious pecuniary injury of many of the people whom those railroads serve, probably both. If all rates were to be based on the ratio for the long distances, either that ratio would have to be increased or the roads would quickly pass into receivers' hands. If the ratio adopted should be that hands. If the ratio adopted should be that for short distances, then the rates on New York, May 26th.—The trial of Herr Most, Adolph Schenck and William Braunschweig, the Anarchists, for misdemenor and trying to incite a riot, was beginn this afternoon. Caledonian Picnic. 5th. The Caledonians generally have the last pienic of the season, but give one which winds up the festivities of that character in grand style. In fact, their gatherings are usually the largest and most the pleasures of a day in the country with the enjoyment of a splendid display of procontestants frequently breaking the records. In addition to the contests for Caledonians alone, there is always a long list of exercises and amusements free for all, and the ombined programme fills out the entire day, followed generally by a ball continuing until midnight. This year the prizes to be distributed amount to $500, and all the prominent athletes of the State are expected to be present. The Hussar band will furnish the music for the day, assisted by six Highland pipers.

Years ago when we began to keep Shoes our stock was like that of the average dealer. It contained some things that were good, some that were bad, and much that were between. We were anxious then, as now, to give satisfaction. We wanted to sell only what was right. But it was hard to judge between the hundreds of makers and qualities that presented themselves.

The ten years or more which have elapsed since then have changed all this. We have had ample chances to observe and to profit by experience. Our shoe stock has been lifted gradually from an ordinary level to a high one.

We have singled out to deal, with manufacturers whose work WE KNOW can be DEPENDED upon. In the list are such names as BURT & PACKARD, COUSINS, DOUGLAS and others-men who have as much pride and as much at stake in turning out good work as we have in selling it.

Indeed, in many cities these goods are sold at higher prices than we ask, while at our rates they cannot be excelled in value any-

Shoes are an important item of expense. Nearly every one is interested in knowing just where they can do the best. We claim to offer buyers superior advantages. Either we do, or we do not. If we do NOT, the least said the better. If we DO, then the fact becomes a matter of concern to every shoe buyer in the city.

At present there and had promised to pay his expenses to are 2,600 men at work on the line.—S. F. Auckland. Robbery, therefore, could not have been his motive for causing his friend's death, which was, at any rate, accidental. The remainder of Fauntleroy's speech was devoted to a description of his lient's actions after the death of Preller. STORY OF THE DEFENDANT. Maxwell was then placed on the stand. He showed little evidence of feeling, though there was some degree of nervous-bess both in his face and hands. There vas a rustle through the Court-room. The Judge in a brief speech demanded absolute quiet in the audience. Witness then, in reply to questions by Fauntleroy, stated in substance as follows: "My full name is H. M. Brooks. I am 25 years old. Was born n Hyde, Chester, England. I commenced tudy law with Brown at Stockport, near Hyde, in 1878, and remained there four years. I am a lawyer by profession. I also studied medicine and surgery at the Colle-gian School at Manchester, but I am not a licensed physician. I first met Preiler at the Northwestern Hotel at Liverpool, but did not get acquainted with him until I met him on board the steamer Cephalonia. dso met Warren on the steamer. Mr eller and I were both Englishmen coming to a strange land, and our acquaintance ripened into a warm friendship. We told much about our plans and purposes for the future, and our acquaintance and friendship continued after our arrival. We reached Boston February 3d, and after three or four days Preller started on a business time. less trip. I had conversations and correndence with Preller about going to New Zealand. We agreed to meet in St. Louis, and go there together. I told him about my financial condition, telling him in a letter that I had $200 all told. I treated Preller several times medically in Boston, and by letter he acknowledged having re ceived benefit from the treatment. He knew that I had never practiced medicin regularly. I never used any deception with him in this regard." Witness then described various events about Preller prior VALLEY SPRINGS, in the county after which own and Preller's arrival in St. Louis, and his visits to Fernow's drug convicts sign this letter

The Court then took a recess. CONTINUATION OF MAXWELL'S STATEMENT After recess the examination of the dere a not the Southern Hotel and the Union depot, where we attempted to discover the cause of the detention of my trunk, which contained the lantern, and were told by the baggageman there that it was probably deained in Port Huron, Canada, by the customs officers. We visited Aloe, the op-tician, in an endeavor to ascertain if he would purchase the lantern and slides when they should arrive. From the time that Mr. Preller arrived in St. Louis down to Easter Sunday, we saw a great deal of each other. We were, as former witnesse have stated, almost inseparable. I visited his room several times, but when we were not looking around the city, or playing pool, we spent most of our time in my room. We played pool a great deal, and who ever lost a game paid for it. We played about even, so the expenses were A peerless remedy for Scrofula, equally divided. We drank some, but not much. On Easter inday, before I went to the drug store e and I had a conversation about

THE PERFORMANCE OF AN OPERATION Heretofore alluded to, and also a day or two before. Mr. Preller described to me his symptoms, and I considered that he was suffering from stricture, and that the best method of treating him was by passing a catheter. I took my authorities on medi-cine and read to Mr. Preller directions as chloroform, and refreshed my own mind as to the precautions to be used. There re marginal notes on the pages treating on the simplest and safest method of using the drug, but I made these some twelve months before I left England. After this onversation with Mr. Preller, I went to the drug store and purchased four ounces of chloroform and a quantity of absorbent cotton. On this same day Preller and I had gone to another drug store, one under the Southern Hotel, and made some purchases which he said we must have and could probably not get on our journey to Auckland, before we should arrive at San Francisco. It had been understood befor Fruit and Vines; no improvements of any note. Price, $12 per tween us all the time that I was to sell my magic lantern and some other things, in order to raise money for the trip to San Francisco, and that he was to pay for my passage to Auckland, with the understanding that I should refund to him the cost of that passage. While in the drug store I ordered and drank a mixture of bromide of potassium and valerianate of ammonia, to quiet my nerves. I drank this in the esence of Mr. Preller, and he paid for i as he did for the other things purchase RETURNED TO THE HOTEL, And on our way up to my room stopped in a cigar stand and purchased a box of cigars, for which my companion paid. We then went up stairs, and after smoking a while and discussing the proposed opera-tion, Mr. Preller went to his own room, re-turning shortly after, having removed his waistcoast and replaced his coat with a dressing-gown. Immediately thereafter he began to make preparations for the operation. Preller removed his trousers and drawers, and laid down upon the bed. I placed the four-ounce bottle of chloroform gram of the liquid on a piece of lint, which I folded three times, then walked to the bed and held the lint about six inches from my patient's face, so that the vapor from the chloroform might from my patient's face, so that the vapor from the chloroform might become mixed with the air, and produce not too violent an effect.
